About Quinnatisset:

Conveniently located in the Quiet Corner of Northeastern Connecticut, in the town of Thompson, Quinnatisset is an 18-hole private club within an hour of Boston and Hartford, 45 minutes of Providence, and a half hour of Worcester.

Quinnatisset's origin traces back to a rudimentary golf course laid out on a private estate designed and owned by industrialist Norman Reams. Over the years the property was transferred to the Quinnatisset Country Club and its members. The property has seen two rounds of renovation first by Geoffrey Cornish and most recently by Roger Rulewich.
